

National Council on Black American Affairs Southern Region 7th Annual Fall Conference

“CIVIC ENGAGEMENT and SOCIAL JUSTICE: A Call to Action for Students and Educational Leaders”

The National Council on Black American Affairs (NCBAA) is the first affiliate council of the American Association of Community Colleges (AACC). The NCBAA evolved over 45 years ago, during a time of great social, political, cultural, and educational change in the United States. As African Americans and other traditionally underrepresented groups enrolled in community colleges, the need was great to prepare and support African Americans with resources, networking and educational opportunities. That need continues today.

We Invite Your Proposals

The NCBAA Southern Region Board of Directors invites you to join us for our 7th annual fall conference. This year’s theme “Civic Engagement and Social Justice: A Call to Action for Students and Educational Leaders” challenges participants to share and reflect experiences and discuss effective strategies that produce real solutions. The conference will feature a number of stimulating presentations, plenary sessions, panels, and networking opportunities. Our planning committee has been working diligently to ensure this year’s conference meets the diverse needs of our faculty, staff, administrative, and student participants.
